

A CALL TO WORSHIP

Resurrection Sunday

We gather! We are a community of faith who know that the glory of God, as witnessed through the Resurrection, is not bound by space or limited to any time.

We gather! In separate spaces but centered on one story. We are a people of Resurrection, celebrating the gift of a risen Savior!

We celebrate! Acknowledging the difficulty of separation and uncertainty. But believing in the unfolding of new connections, new hopes, and new possibilities.

We celebrate! Knowing the pain of a hard Friday, experiencing the grief of an uncertain Saturday but believing in the joy of a Resurrection morning!

Hallelujah! This is the day that the Lord has made. Let us lean into our joy and celebrate with gladness. We receive the gift of the Resurrection.

Hallelujah! Jesus has Risen. He has overcome death, that we might know that death does not have the final word. We live into the truth of the Resurrection.

Today we gather! Today we celebrate! We live into hope, even beyond what we can see. We will be healing where brokenness has seemed to prevail and love where hate seems to remain. Jesus is Risen!

Wherever we are, we are still together. We participate in the joy, peace, hope, justice, and relationship that Jesus reminds us is ours. We choose to live into the call of our resurrected Savior, even when it is hard to do. We declare, “Jesus is Risen”, Hallelujah!
